Great British Spring Clean 2019

From the national NALC

As our latest Points of Light 2019 report shows, local councils are stepping up to support communities across a wide range of themes, including local environmental improvements through litter picks and street cleaning. On Wednesday, Keep Britain Tidy launched their Great British Spring Clean 2019 in Westminster, attended by Jessica Lancod-Frost, policy officer. This year's Spring Clean will take place from 22 March – 23 April 2019 and I'm again keen for as many councils as possible to get involved and join over 370,000 #LitterHeroes already cleaning up their community!

Details are at

Standards

The national Committee on Standards in Public Life are due to publish their report on Local Government Ethical Standards tomorrow (Wednesday 30 January 2019).

It is expected to deal with the sanctions available for breaches of the code of conduct as well as more general comments.

It will be available via

<https://www.gov.uk/government/organisations/the-committee-on-standards-in-public-life>

Training

We are currently finalising our training programme for 2019 and will be sending details to Member Councils in the next few weeks.

The local branch of the SLCC has asked that I include the details shown below

New Clerk Event

As you may already be aware, the 'New Clerk Event' is aimed at clerks who have been clerking for 12 months or less. The event, sponsored by CCLA and Came & Company, is a new concept for 2019 and will be packed with best-practice advice, tips and information. The event will take place in two locations, CCLA in London on the 27th February and Hardwick Hall in Sedgefield on the 3rd July. The event is open to members and non-members and is only £10 + VAT to attend.

Bookings are now open on our website so please make members/non-members aware at your Branch meetings.

More information and the full agenda is available on <https://www.slcc.co.uk/conference/new-clerk-event/37/>
